

Buy smart this holiday

The Shortgrass Library System encourages people to research holiday gifts before making major purchases by going on line to read Consumer Reports.

Through the system, cardholders can log onto www.consumerreports.shortgrass.ca to do research and to get advice and ratings.

"With the largest shopping season of the year in full swing, it only makes sense to check the ratings of a project before you head out to make your purchase," stated Petra Mauerhoff, Shortgrass Library System CEO, in a news release.
